Easy to install on new systems or retrofit in cages

As the egg laying industry continues to evolve, equipment manufacturing companies must do the same. At LUBING, our tradition of innovation keeps us at the forefront of the industry continually offering cutting edge technology for improved performance.

LUBING's Comfort Perch System is an amazing product which offers amazing results. Our Cage Free perch system is ergonomically designed to offer the most pad contact and comfort to the birds while perching. The mushroom perch design fits the contour of the birds paws and allows the birds to grip the perch without working to keep their balance. This design has been proven to significantly reduce bird stress and result in higher production with lower mortality.

Our Comfort Perch Systems can be installed on plastic slats or wire mesh.
